INT. SIDDHU'S HOUSE - CONTINUOUS

Siddharth, floor meeda kurchoni with a pad on his lap. There are different pencils, an eraser, a sharpener, a whole unit of box a side, all placed on the floor randomly, as he's sketching some cartoon character. Comic sketches on A4 sheets placed on one another with numbers visible at the bottom right circled.

A guy walks with random foot steps, and lands his foot on one of the A4 papers. Siddharth immediately looks at that feet with a shock, the guy picks up that paper with his toe, Siddharth looks up to him.

Holding that paper in front of his face, burns a comic character's face, his single eye is visible through the hole made by that cigar's burn. With a side smile, releases smoke, his face through an X mark which is being made on the paper is visible. And that paper is dropped, revealing his face. As he releases smokes, it's Rahul.

Sidhu looking at that burnt X mark, feeling those scars as he touches.

Rahul will be on his bed, as he takes a puff, Sidhu looks at him, takes big puff, as he slants on the pillow, throws that cigar at Sidhu. Sidhu moves a side, 1-2 sparks fell over here and there, he covers his face, looks at him, as he looks around, the cigar's ash being fell over those few sheets of comic sketches and a hole is made on all those sheets.

As Siddhu looks at him with a teary eyes,

RAHUL
Light banchey!
(with an irritative base voice)

Siddhu kind of jerked, switches off the light immediately. While Hot red cigar is being visible as Siddhu's sorts his stuff.
